

Making a Change to Your Will

We always recommend that you seek advice from your solicitor when you make or change your Will.

If you have already made a Will, and now wish to include a gift to Ridley Hall, it is often more straightforward to make the addition by asking your solicitor to draw up a new Will. Alternatively, it is possible to draw up a Codicil with your solicitor to amend your existing Will. The following document is in an instruction sheet, which can be used to express your wishes to your solicitor and to help formulate a Codicil, but does not constitute a legally binding document. Your solicitor should ensure that any Codicil made is executed correctly, and properly reflects your intentions.

Please do not write on, or amend, your current Will, as this could make it invalid.
